

Artan Davoodi

Product & Interface Systems Lead

Cognitive Systems Designer • Product Communication

I design product interfaces, structure cognitive systems, and translate complex ideas into clear public language, documentation, and commercial presentation.

I work fluently in professional English and speak Persian as my native language, bringing a cross-cultural perspective shaped by Iranian warmth, Balkan resilience, Scandinavian creativity, and German discipline.

My work is driven by a deep interest in human interaction, communication, and the inner architecture of the mind — how people think, feel, decide, and connect.

Experience

Neuroartan

Founder · Product & Interface Systems Lead

Feb 2026 – Present

Building a governed cognitive product system across interface design, model personalization, documentation, and AI-assisted implementation.

Kreativoli

Brand & Website Designer

2024 – Oct 2024

Developed the brand identity, website direction, visual system, early social media presence, photography direction, and early business presentation.

IKEA

Visual Communication Designer

May 2021 – Mar 2023

Worked on commercial activity design, sales-driven visual communication, customer-facing layouts, video projects, and brand-aligned visual materials.

Tarahe Bartar

Design Lead

Feb 2016 – Feb 2017

Led design work across brand, campaign, and visual communication projects.

Freelance Art & Design

Freelance Artist & Designer

Oct 2014 – Present

Created independent visual, artistic, and design work across selected personal and client-facing projects.